COURSE DESCRIPTION

Children bring joy to our hearts with their laughter and resilient energy for life. Their inherent healing potential combined with the gift of early osteopathic treatments can create great rewards in optimal health and childhood development. What a gift it would be if all babies, children and adolescents had the benefit of early osteopathic intervention! Join us as we guide you through a journey of evaluating and treating children of all ages, from head to toe, through osteopathy. Many osteopathic techniques are modified for children, since they are not small adults. This course will prepare you to evaluate and address a child from birth through each developmental stage over a 6-8 week treatment plan from an osteopathic perspective. Topics include adapting treatments for children, gaining cooperation at various ages and stages, relieving the trauma of birth, and other common childhood dysfunctions. Our goal is helping each child reach their optimal potential through Osteopathy. The interest in the osteopathic approach to pediatrics continues to grow. With the significant rise in many pediatric issues such as flat heads, torticollis, autistic spectrum disorder, allergies, asthma, and developmental delay, many parents are finding that early osteopathic care improves their child's quality of life.

OPC reserves the right, at course participant's expense, to assume the exclusive defense and control of any matter for which course participant is required to indemnify OPC and course participant agrees to cooperate with OPC's defense of these claims. Course participant agrees not to settle any matter without the prior written consent of OPC. OPC will use reasonable efforts to notify course participant of any such claim, action, suit, or proceeding upon becoming aware of it. It is the responsibility of all participants to use the information provided within the scope of their professional license or practice.

COURSE DIRECTORS

Dr. Mary Anne Morelli Haskell is

a 1988 graduate of the College of Osteopathic Medicine of the Pacific. After an internship in general medicine, she completed pediatric residency at Loma Linda University Medical Center. Dr. Haskell practiced with Dr. Viola Frymann for 13 years and was the President of the Osteopathic Center for Children before opening her own pediatrics practice in Coronado, California in 2005. She has lectured nationally and internationally in the field of pediatric osteopathy for over 23 years. An avid student of osteopathy, homeopathy and integrative medicine, Dr. Haskell creates a unique blend of integrative osteopathic pediatrics. Dr. Haskell is a member of the AOA, OCA, and AAO. She serves as teaching faculty for OPC, OCA, and is adjunct faculty at COMP.

Dr. Julie Mai graduated from Touro

University College of Osteopathic Medicine in 2005. After her traditional Osteopathic Internship, she worked and taught along with Dr. Viola Frymann at the Osteopathic Center for Children for numerous years. In addition, she had numerous training with Philippe Druelle D.O. from Canada. Dr. Mai achieved a Certification of Proficiency from the Osteopathic Cranial Academy and a Diploma in Clinical Homeopathy from the CEDH. She currently has a private OMM practice in Solana Beach and a second private OMM practice in Orange County. She currently serves on the Board of Director of the Osteopathic Center for Children and is a member of the Osteopathic Cranial Academy, AOA, and AAO.
